Little Secured in Robbery of the Postoffice at Liberty.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LIBERTY, Ind., June 22.-The postoffice in this city was entered between 1 and 3 o'clock this morning, the vault and safe blown open and contents taken.

About 1:30 o'clock Postmaster B. Grove, whose residence is separated from the building occupied by the postoffice only by a narrow alley, was awakened by the report of an explosion. On raising a window to look out he discovered a man armed with a revolver standing beneath his window and on investigating found that all sides of his residence were guarded in the same manner. Knowing that there was little of value in the postoffice safe, everything of value having been deposited in the Union County National Bank on Saturday night, he remained quietly in his house. There was a band of from five to eight concerned in the burglary and their plans had been carefully matured. Guards were stationed at either end of the alley in the rear of the postoffice and two men in a wagon patrolled the square in which the postoffice is situated. The door to the vault in the postoffice was blown open with nitroglycerin, four charges being used. The burglars secured only a small amount in stamps and change for their trouble. Their work proved them to be experts. It is not yet known what direction they took in leaving the city.

Woman Fooled by a Burglar.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. UNION CITY, Ind., June 22 .- Saturday night Mrs. Milo Stumpp saw a man in her room, and coming to the door she asked, "Is that you, Milo?" thinking it was her husband. The burglar answered "Yes," and calmly sat down, removed his shoes and stockings and coat. At this Mrs. Sthmpp went away and the burglar proceeded to ransack the house, when he was surprised by Mr. Stumpp, who recognized him as Fred Butzer of this city. The latter was arrested, and is now in jail awaiting a hearing. He is only eighteen years old.

$25,000 Subscribed for a New Church.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LOGANSPORT, Ind., June 22 .- At the Wesley bi-centenary jubilee of the Broadway Methodist Church in this city yesterday $25,000 was subscribed by the members towards the building of a new church edifice. Joseph Wesley Powell, of Buffalo, a well-known evangelist, and the Rev. H N. Herrick, D. D., presiding elder of the Kokomo district, were here to assist the Rev. P. Ross Parrish, the local pastor, in the undertaking, to which the entire day, including morning, afternoon and evening services, was devoted. The congregation has occupied its present home for over fifty years and the building is a landmark. The ntention is to erect a handsome $50,000 edifice this summer in keeping with the present prosperity of the church.

Blind Tigers Excite Wrath.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., June 22.-The temperance people of Henryville are up in arms over the alleged existence of two blind tigers in their midst, where drinks are served by an unseen hand. For several years there was a continuous fight between the saloon and anti-saloon citizens of the town, and recently the latter defeated the applications of the two saloon keepers in the town for new licenses. They claim however, that liquor is being sold illegally and will ask the grand jury to investigate.

Richmond Art Exhibit.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., June 22.-The attendance on the Richmond Art Association's annual exhibit, now in progress, promises to exceed that of any previous year. The attendance on Sunday surpassed that of any preceding Sunday. R. B. LINTON MINERS AT WORK.

Decide to Obey the Mandate of President John Mitchell.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 22.-The striking miners at Linton, on the advice o John Mitchell, returned to work this morn ing, the national president having made it plain that they were in danger of being ousted from the organization and debarred from working at Linton or anywhere else in Indiana. A fine has been imposed on each of the three locals involved in the strike. The fact that President Hargrove and National Committeeman Purcell are members of one of the lodges gives a humorous phase to the situation. Both are rigid advocates of strict adherence to contracts and rules, which the Linton miners desired to ignore.

FAILED TO MEET THE TEST.

Bank Safe Blown Open at Ohio City Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

DECATUR, Ind., June 22.-A novel test for a safe was made at Ohio City, O., just across the line, on Saturday, by experts of the Manganese Safe and Lock Company on a safe belonging to the National Safe Company, at Cincinnati, O.

Several weeks ago five masked burglars blew the safe in the Farmers' Bank at Ohio City, but failed to get the $10,000 within. It was necessary to purchase a new safe, and when the directors announced that the safe sold by the National Safe Company of Cincinnati would be the one selected, representatives of the Manganese company made the assertion that its experts could open the safe of the National company in three hours, and that if this could not be done the company would forfeit $500 to the National. The latter company offered the Manganese company the same amount if the men did open the safe in the time al-

The test was set for Saturday, when the experts, Messrs. Rodeman, of New York, and Clark, of Pittsburg, were on the scene to do the work. The test had attracted considerable attention and there were many visitors. At 3 o'clock the experts began work deliberately, and in one hour and fifty-three minutes the door of the great safe was removed. Seven charges of dynamite were necessary. The men remained in the building all the time they were at work. Three ounces of nitroglycerine was used Harry Daniel Sells His Paper.

Getting Used to Coolies.

. B. Tueder, in the World's Work. The American bridegmen in Uganda were several months in learning how to manage the coolies and the Africans without friction and confusion. The caste among the Hindus, Sikhs and others, the distinctions among races and trades, were so many forms of insanity to the American mechanics. For example, all drinking water had to be brought long distances up the railway. Four separate tanks must be provided for the castes among the Indians. If one tank ran dry, though the three others were full, it was necessary to send a train after water for the empty one. The Hindu would perish rather than drink from one of the other supplies. In making camp the greatof property among the castes.

est care was necessary to prevent confusion There were no general strikes, but the coolie had a way of organizing himself as an individual striker and refusing to work without any tangible reason. It then be came my painful duty to act as the duly authorized court of justice. The punishment was a fine of wages or a flogging, laid on with a rhinoceros-hide cane-twenty-five lishes the limit of severity. The whippings were applied to the native laborers chiefly for the offenses of stealing and trying to run away. After two or three months in field the Africans became almost useess because of homesickness. They pined to return to the coast, and it was found expedient to send them back in gangs when the symptoms became troublesome,

St. Louis Cleaning Up.

New York Evening Post. St. Louis is having the largest housecleaning in its history. The Civic Improvement League, including women as well as men has borrowed a New York idea, and seeks to enlist the aid of the children in making the city "as clean, healthy and beautiful as it is busy." The Junior Civic League is being organized, boys and girls from six to eighteen years of age being eligible for membership. Block leagues are formed by children living on each side of the street on each block. The officers of the Junior League are older people who belong to the parent body. The annual dues of the junior members are paid by filling out and sending to the secretary answers to questions, which the following are samples: "Has your home yard been kept free from garpage, ashes, filth of all kinds? Have you a garbage receptacle of the proper kind? How often has the garbage collector failed to collect your garbage, as required by law?" Copies of the city ordinances and other information are furnished each child.

cash prize in the senior discussion to-night. The board of trustees, which has been in session since Saturday morning, has found the affairs of the institution in the best of condition, both in finances and the administration of college work. This is especially gratifying in that it is the closing of the first year of Dr. Bryan as president of the institution. Theodore Rose, of Muncie, class of '75, elected to succeed Charles L. Henry, is among the visitors, and while yet not a member of the board has been invited to participate in the deliberations of that body. An interesting incident connected with the board meeting is the beginning of the thirty-third year's service of Isaac Jenkinson, of Richmond, as a trustee. He is president of the board. Mr. Jenkinson was first elected in 1865 and since that time has been a member of the since that time has been a member of the board, except during the six years that he was United States consul to Glasgow. He is in his seventy-ninth year.
Dr. Eigenman, head of the zoology department, left this morning for Lake Winona, where this week the Indiana biological stations will again be opened for work. The outlook is for an attendance at the summer school that will exceed that of all previous years. The young women of the Pi Phi frater-nity have rented the W. A. Rice property, corner of Grant street and Kirkwood avenue, for a chapter house. They will pay $3,000 rent for five years. The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity has purchased the Dr. Swain property, East Third street, and will take possession in September. The price was between $7,000 and $8,000, without any furnishings. It is understood that about $2,000 will be expended in improving and al-The indications are that the present commencement at Indiana University will be one of the most interesting and successful in the history of the institution. Already there is a very large attendance of alumni, and there will be present an unusual number of parents and friends of the class, which will be graduated Wednesday, inasmuch as the graduating class, numbering in all about 150, is much the largest ever turned out. Special preparations have been made for alumni day to-morrow, and it is expected to entertain all of the visitors on the campus from morning till evening, a lunch being served at noon and the alumni dinner at 6 o'clock, at which ex-Attorney General W. Our friend Charles A. Conant, who was one of the currency experts who visited Mexico at the invitation of the finance department to confer with the monetary commission, and who has now sailed for Europe as a member of the United States Commission on International Exchange, sent, a fortnight before sailing, the following businesslike message to the Russell Hotel, London: "Can you reserve eight rooms for Amer-

Rewarded by Grateful Hens. New York Press. One night last week the members of the Elmhurst volunteer fire department re-ceived a call to a fire somewhere in the marshes lining Newtown creek. Half way to the fire they were overtaken by a trolley car, to which they lost no time in attaching their machine. When they arrived within view of the fire they saw it would be impossible to approach the burning structure in anything else than a rowboat. When they finally reached the fire nothing was left of the building but a smoldering pile of ashes. They captured a number of chickens which had escaped in the nick of time, though somewhat scorched, and with these trophies in their arms they waited with their machine at the roadside until the first troi-
